ABOUT US

Enactus College of Vocational Studies began in 2014 with 9 students and since then our team has worked on six projects, driving us to make significant changes to our community and living up to our motto, 'We rise by rising others'. Now 70 members strong, we prioritize self-sustainability through cost-effective business models, addressing social, economic, and environmental challenges. With 3 active projects—Ikhitraa, Abyaan, and Ethiyaat—we're committed to lasting impact in our communities.

OUR PROJECTS

PROJECT ABYAAN

Project Abyaan aims to address the conundrum of untreated Used Cooking Oil's (UCO) disposal into water bodies which induces problems like Aquatic Hypoxia. Through its minimally priced soaps, manufactured by underprivileged women communities, Abyaan aims to address the issue of affordability and accessibility relating to health and hygiene.

PROJECT EHTIYAAT

Project Ehtiyaat is a collaborative project by Enactus CVS and Enactus Khalsa which aims to upcycle single-use plastic waste and transform it into plarn, while also reviving the disappearing art of traditional craftsmanship while supporting the artists.

PROJECT IKHTIRAA

Project Ikhtiraa aims to minimise the consumption of microplastics by replacing the paper plastic material used in teabags with Muslin cloth while empowering underprivileged communities and providing them with a steady source of income.

GREEN TEA BAGS

Elevate your tea experience guilt-free with Ikhtiraa's green tea, featuring handmade, stitch-sealed muslin teabags. Triangular in shape, these all-natural, zero-calorie delights improve metabolism while supporting underprivileged communities. Savor every sip, knowing you're making a difference. Our teabags are FSSAI-certified ensuring top safety and quality.
